

Lyrics to "Oh Me, Oh My, Oh Gosh"

Oh me, oh my, oh gosh,
I can't stand this wear and tear.
Ooh, golly, oh gee,
Well it must be that I'm just nowhere.

<Bridge: Slam's solo (bass + "vocal mimicry" an octave above), guitar solo, and piano solo>

Oh me, oh my, oh gosh,
Tiddy-yit, tuhdy-yuht, tiddy-yit, tuhdy ya-pull-tuh, ta-pull-puh, pow!
Ooh, golly, oh gee,
Zee-ya-pull-tuh, tee-uh-tuh, pootsie, pawtsie, puh-puh-puh pow. Tilt!

Morning, noon and night,
I can't even put up a fight. (Isn't that right?)
Oh, whatever you're trying to prove,
Baby, do you think that's right?

Hardly ever see you from dawn till dusk;
Not even from dusk till dawn.
If push comes to shove, well a must is a must:
One day you gonna find me gone.

Oh me, oh my, oh gosh,
I can't stand this wear and tear.
Ooh, golly, oh gee,
Well it must be that I'm just nowhere.

(Transcribed by Mike Matloff for JazzBaron.com.)